

I don't want your useless labels or your mind-numbing medication.

I want to be treated like an actual human being, not an age or a diagnosis.

I want a hug.

A Conversation with Playwright Chloe Yates

Spring and Other Things is a one-woman semi-autobiographical play about psychiatric incarceration, queerness and climate anxiety, written and performed by Chloe Yates (she/they).

Following its run at Norwich Arts Centre and the Old Red Lion Theatre in London, the Feminist Therapy Network is delighted to host a conversation with playwright Chloe Yates to discuss the difficult and urgent themes of the play that speak so directly to ethical practices and dilemmas within our work as psychotherapists and counsellors.

Taking place on Zoom on Thursday January 30th at 7pm, you are welcome to join us for an intimate conversation together, that will be held in accordance with the FTN's ethos.

Places are limited - please email to join. This conversation is offered freely, but Chloe invites you to make a donation to the HandsUp Project which supports the education of Palestinian children through storytelling, drama and art.

Spaces are limited so please only book a place if you are sure you will be able to join - late cancellations are very impactful on small events. This event will not be recorded.
